Ford As Diplomat.
Whales Float Twice.
The Value of Enemies.
No More Handshaking?

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.)

HENRY FORD tells British reporters, "The last time I was in England I bought a Rolls Royce, and what's more, I took it home with me."

Much delight among proud Britons, Ford, diplomat, did not add that he and his son Edsel buy every make of car in the world, having a special department to examine such cars, test and submit them to every possible kind of abuse, to discover any good new idea in them.

Edsel Ford lately was racing around in a German Mercedes car, built to do 120 miles an hour.

CAPT. THUSTERSEN, Norwegian whaler, after three weeks in the Antarctic region, returns with 48,000 barrels of whale oil worth $2,500,000. "That she blows," in the Norwegian language, rang out a dozen times a day.

WONDERFULLY prolific is nature, filling even the cold oceans with whales. And much amazed would those whales be if they could understand that they are now on their way to Proctor and Gamble's to be made into Ivory soap, which floats, as the poor whales once did.

THE greatest lawyers, capitalists, politicians were proud to escort the late Chauncey M. Depew to his grave. The nation wishes him happiness in the next world, as he knew it in this.

NOBODY went to the grave of Jean Jacques Rousseau, when he was buried on the Isle des Pins.

Napoleon, looking at that lonely grave, said that if there had been no Jean Jacques Rousseau there would have been no Napoleon, and perhaps it would have been just as well for the world if neither had lived.

To have fine pallbearers at your funeral, make only friends. To be remembered, make well chosen enemies.

THE Fascists propose to abolish handshaking for health reasons. "No use exchanging microbes every time two men meet."

Indiscriminate handshaking by men and kissing by women might be eliminated on common sense grounds also.

HANDSHAKING originated when a man held out his hand to show it held no knife. That's gone by. The thing is done more neatly now with the aid of lawyers.

George Washington did not believe in handshaking and stood at receptions with his hands behind his back and bowed.

The Rev. George J. Jeffries baptized 1,000 in Albert Hall, London, with 10,000 looking on. The baptized men wore white flannels, the women white night gowns, and it was no simple old-fashioned baptizing.

Flashlights and floodlights, lime-light and loud speakers gave "class" to the event.

What our country lacks in simple faith, we make up for with megaphones.

GOV. SMITH uses his veto with common sense.

Kindhearted people passed a law forbidding the clipping of dogs' ears. "Gov. Smith won't veto that kind law," said they, but he did veto it.

Dogs fight, ears clipped or unclipped. Clipping fighting dogs' ears saves them trouble and pain. If you were a dog, you would have the sensitive outer part of your ears clipped for all, rather than have them bitten a hundred times.

The box contained a two-piece sable set valued at $350; a green silk dress, green hat, black silk raincoat, kimono, handkerchiefs, silk negligee and toilet articles. The woman, through Chief of Police McDermott, has offered a reward for information leading to the recovery of the box and its contents.

CHIEF JUSTICE MARSHALL HITS COURT CRITICS AT BAR DINNER

State Jurist Honor Guest of Southern County Lawyers.

E. F. REED SPEAKS
John A. Elden of Cleveland Also Makes Address.

Criticism which has been directed against present day courts and members of the bar is "wholly unjustified", Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall of the Ohio supreme court, told 75 guests at the 27th annual banquet of the Southern Columbian County Bar association at the East Liverpool Country club Saturday night.

Defending the courts he declared that the number of cases filed in the common pleas branch during the last seven years had shown an increase of approximately 70 percent. He condemned the powers which has been bestowed upon commissions and state boards to settle cases involving judicial questions.

Visiting lawyers from Beaver, Beaver Falls, Steubenville, Youngstown, Lisbon and other places attended the banquet. Attorney George E. Davidson, this city, president of the Southern Columbian County Bar association, was toastmaster. The address of welcome was given by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley.

Attorney Earl F. Reed, Pittsburgh, discussing "Encroachments Upon the Legal Profession," condemned the practice of corporation employees in settling estates which until recently had been the business of a lawyer.

"In Detroit recently a new trial in an important case was granted because of the stories carried in one of the newspapers, purported to have been given out by a member of the jury" said Reed. "A few years ago such things would never have been tolerated."

He also scored the investigation made by a senate committee recently into the coal strike in the Pittsburgh district.

This committee came to Pittsburgh with their opinion formed in advance and as a result their investigation became a side show," he asserted.

"The bar association should also work to take the appointments of board and commissions out of politics," he said. "A doctor makes a mistake and it is buried; if a lawyer makes a mistake a fellow member of his profession shouts it from the house tops."

John A. Elden, former resident of East Liverpool, now practicing in Cleveland, was introduced by Mr. Davidson as "the next president of the state bar association." Elden discussed the proposed publication being sponsored by the state bar to present the ruling of the supreme court and the appellate court, to be issued in that section, when he was run down.

Sinclair Faces Court In Oil Scandal Trial

Defense Attorney in Teapot Dome Case Challenges Court's Practice of Personally Questioning Veniremen.

By George E. Durno.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The federal government launched its supreme effort today to bring Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil man and sportsman, to task for his participation in the so-called oil scandals.

Shortly after 10 o'clock this morning Sinclair went on trial for criminal conspiracy to defraud the nation of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in the court of District Supreme Court Justice Jennings Bailey.

Jurors Questioned.

The first 26 of the 550 men and women available for jury duty were on hand in the tiny court room for questioning. George Hoover, of defense council, immediately challenged the court's practice of personally questioning the veniremen to the exclusion of the opposing attorneys, claiming it contrary to all existing law and unfair to his famous client.

Sinclair listened to the argument in a nonchalant manner, surrounded by his "million-dollar" array of counsel. His co-defendant, former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, who leased him the disputed oil land in exchange for what the government contends was a $220,500 bribe was missing today—too ill in New Mexico to attempt the journey to Washington.

Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomeren, the government's special oil prosecutors, upheld the court's practice of personally interrogating the prospective jurors. It helped in speeding up the trial, Roberts contended.

Justice Bailey had the box filled and asked the juror questions collectively.

PISTOLS USED IN CLASH WITH SHERIFF SQUAD AT PORTSMOUTH

One Officer and Gunman are Shot to Death.

OTHERS WOUNDED

Altercation Occurs as Man Refuses to Get Whisky.

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 9.—Two men are dead and two others are reported near death in hospitals here today as the result of a gun battle between deputy sheriffs and two men at Slab Run, near here, last night.

Two Men in Hospital.

Henry Bending, 31, a deputy sheriff, was shot through the head and killed instantly. Garner Vencil, 27, was shot in the abdomen and died in a hospital this morning. Allen Higgins is also in a hospital with serious knife wounds and Green Willis, 47, a deputy, has a bullet wound in the neck which is expected to prove fatal.

Edward Burton, 19, who was shot in the leg, was removed to the county jail today, charged with murder.

Vencil and Burton are said to have encountered Higgins at a filling station just outside the city last evening. An altercation began, according to reports, when Vencil asked Higgins to get him some whisky.

Two Men Uninjured.

Vencil was known as a tough character and had killed two men previously, according to police. When Higgins refused to go for whisky Vencil and Burton drew knives and cut him seriously, according to reports. The fight continued. Higgins attempting to escape, and the other two following him until they had reached Slab Run, a small ravine a short distance further down the road, spectators said.

By this time a call had been sent to the sheriff's office and the county car, occupied by Deputies Bending and Willis. Police Captain Lee Startzman, and William Burns, a newspaper reporter, arrived a few minutes later.

Bending was driving. He stopped the machine, Willis stepped out, and shouted to the men that they were under arrest. Vencil and Burton both drew pistols, according to reports, and began shooting.

The first shot struck Willis' jaw, and penetrated the back of his neck. He dropped to the ground and another bullet hit Bending. He slumped over the steering wheel dead. Willis, though seriously wounded, returned the tire as he lay on the ground and Startzman also began shooting from the automobile.

UTILITIES PAY ONE-FIFTH OF COUNTY TAXES

Properties in County
Valued at $18,
386,500.

AVERAGE RATE $22.

Taxes Exceeds Those of Corporations and Banks.

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—Public utility companies of Columbian county will pay taxes this year on a valuation representing about fifteen percent of all taxable wealth in the county, according to figures just announced by the state tax commission.

These utility companies are on the tax duplicate for $18,386,500, as compared with a total county duplicate of $124,761,850, representing taxable holdings of utilities, real estate, banks, corporations and individuals. The utilities' valuation is more than twice that of all other corporations, and more than five times that of the banks. The corporation duplicate is $8,092,680 and the bank duplicate is $3,518,820.

Analyzing these figures, the Ohio Committee on Public Utility Information points out that taxes charged public utility companies must be reflected in rates charged, inasmuch as the utilities have no other source of income.

In tax valuation—figures of utilities, the valuation of four companies, the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric Co., Western Union Telegraph Co., Buckeye Pipe Line Co., and the G. Telephone and Telegraph Co., have not been included, because the present valuation of $46,199,270 is disputed and is now the subject of litigation in the courts.

The average rate on which Columbian county taxes will be paid this year is $22.575 per thousand dollar valuation, as compared with that of $21.577, on which taxes were paid last year.

Late Spring Clean-up

The health board and service department have designated the three-week period between May 7 and May 21 for the spring clean-up, during which citizens are to be asked to co-operate in a war on the winter's accumulation of refuse in cellars, attics and back yards.

Street department trucks, in charge of Commissioner Oliver Bubbard and his co-workers, will make the rounds to collect, with the exception of ashes, all rubbish which is placed in receptacles at convenient points in alleys and streets. Cans, bottles, etc., will be hauled away.

Certain days are to be designated for the trips to East End, West End, Northside and the central part of the city, so that no zone will be overlooked in order to make city slick and span give it a new dress for summer.

While the period fixed for the clean-up is late in the spring, it is not too late. Nor should the public wait until May to get busy on the job.

And while citizens as a whole are co-operating in this worthwhile movement, the street department should tackle the task of removing some of the surplus waste paper, etc., which clutters hillside streets and downtown thoroughfares. And a little water would not mar the bricked surface, either.

Let's get busy, citizens and Street Commissioner Bubbard.

Cost of Government

The cost of government in Ohio in 1926 was $422,000,000. Thirty-one per cent of this staggering total went for schools, colleges and universities; twenty-four per cent for highways; eleven per cent for interest on local debts; seven per cent for public utilities, and twenty-seven per cent for "general purposes," including police and fire protection, health and sanitation, inspection service and some other matters.

Of the total expenditures, $49,000,000 were by the state, $125,000,000 by cities, $126,000,000 by school districts, $89,000,000 by counties, $14,000,000 by villages and $9,000,000,000 by townships. Exclusive of debt changes, state and local expenditures for education were $129,000,000, educational facilities being provided at public expense for one person to every five of the population, such expenditures exclusive of interest on debts and the cost of improvements averaging $72,500 for grade pupils and $142 for high school pupils.

The heaviest expense in the cost of state, county, township and municipal governments—school districts, it may be observed, are not included—is that for roads and streets, the total being $101,000,000, of which counties expended forty per cent; cities, thirty-two per cent; the state, eighteen per cent, and villages and townships, ten per cent.

Twenty years ago it would have been political suicide for any official or set of officials to have suggested such expenditures as these. A storm of protest would have been raised ten years ago over even the reported contemplation of such expenditures. But we have been traveling along rather rapidly during the last decade or two, and we look with seeming indifference upon expenditures today which would have evoked overwhelming opposition twenty years ago. We are yet under the influence of the spending mania which we acquired during and immediately following the World War, which was such an orgy of extravagance as the world never before had witnessed.

Probably the best test we can give the matter of expenditures may be had by asking whether we can afford them and whether we are getting value received for them.

Can the people of Ohio afford to pay out $422,000,000 annually for government?

Is our state government worth $49,000,000 annually?

Are our streets and roads worth $101,000,000 a year?

Are we getting value received for the $129,000,000, exclusive of debt charges, for educational purposes?

Are the cities of Ohio getting government worth $135,000,000?

If all these questions can be answered in the affirmative, then well and good, but if they cannot be thus answered, then there is need for a curbing of such outlays, need for a pause in which to take a survey of the situation and a revision of the amounts to be expended in the various taxing divisions.

Untimely Deaths of Senators

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, member of the United States Senate from New York, and widely known health specialist whose timely articles appear each day in The Review, is authority for the declaration that the United States senate is sending its members to untimely deaths because it won't provide decent working conditions for them.

If what Senator Copeland says is true it is an indictment against shortsighted economy and a thing which will forever leave a blot on the nation.

The tragic death of Senator Willis, according to Senator Copeland speaking from his knowledge as a health specialist, may be attributed to the foul air of the senate chamber. The same is true in the deaths of Senator Ferris of Michigan, and Senator Jones of New Mexico, Dr. Copeland asserts.

Senator Copeland is author of a bill calling for a remodeling of the senate chamber, moving the north wall of the capitol and cutting three 20-foot windows from the floor to the ceiling. The work proposed would cost half a million dollars, estimates say.

But if the contemplated improvement would be the means of saving just one life among the members of the senate, would it not be false economy not to authorize it? Assuredly. And if what Dr. Copeland says is true—and physicians everywhere recognize that he probably is one of the world's greatest health authorities—then it is time this betterment is undertaken before other members of the senate give up their lives to the economy which would save a few dollars and sacrifice health.

In the last twelve years 36 members of the United States senate have died during their incumbency, the records disclose. There is no doubt in Dr. Copeland's mind, he says, that working in the senate chamber lowers the physical resistance of each of them.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9—Chicago has embarked in earnest upon a fresh struggle to wrest from New York at least a share of the advantage of being the great money market of the nation, and, to some extent, of the world. This marks a new round in an old fight and while the odds probably still must be regarded as with New York, they are shortening.

When an American speaks of "the stock exchange" he thinks of but one thing—the New York Stock Exchange. Chicago has come to resent this and sees no reason why she should not have a stock exchange of nearly equal if not equal prominence and power.

Chicago has a stock exchange now. So has Washington. So have many American cities. The difference is that upon most of them few stocks are listed aside from those of local public utility companies and local and nearest in the nation's business affairs. Only on the New York Stock Exchange are the big issues listed and only to New York does the public look and send its money when it wishes to invest. There it very frequently leaves it. Chicago wants her share in a big way.

Chicago bases her attempt on the fact that she is the second largest city in the United States and the largest distributing center. She has thirty-four railroads, a dozen more than New York, entering her portals. She is the center of the second largest manufacturing industry in the United States, the meat packing industry.

But, principally, Chicago bases her aspirations in the fact that she has indeed become a money power. New York has the advantage of being a couple of centuries older than Chicago. The latter city, being new, for a long time was compelled to depend on eastern money to finance her colossal projects. With the Boston, New York and Philadelphia funds she borrowed she made big profits, but even as her industries grew the need for financing grew also.

Ivan Wright, Professor of banking and finances at the University of Illinois, has drawn up a comprehensive plan on which he has been working for five years. It covers every necessary move in the campaign to establish Chicago as a money center and shows the big financial institutions what course they should follow to meet with success.

Chicago has shown its teeth as a money power already. Last fall the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, controlled by banks of the Chicago Federal Reserve district, declined to lower its rediscount rate when all other Federal Reserve banks were doing so. Not so very long ago this would not have been regarded as a serious matter, but it was found that the western metropolis had become so powerful that funds were being drawn to her from New York and other eastern money centers and even from Europe. To avoid a serious disruption of the financial situation not only here but abroad, the Federal Reserve Board stepped in and arbitrarily ordered the rate reduced. A suit is pending to test the right of the board to take such action.

More than a decade ago, when the Aldrich plan for a central bank was in process of formulation, a bitter struggle occurred between New York and Chicago financial interests. The real point at issue was which city was to be the location of the central bank. Substitution of the Federal Reserve System with twelve banks made that issue obsolete, but the Federal Reserve banks of New York and Chicago again are in rivalry as are the entire financial interests of both great cities.

Washington is watching the struggle with profound interest.

Q. What countries other than ours raise oysters for the market? D. C. M.

A. The various countries which raise oysters for market besides ours are England, France, Germany, Holland, Spain, Italy, Australia, China, Japan, Canada, Mexico, and certain parts of South America and Algeria. In these various countries there are about 10 different species of oysters, all of which are similar in structure to our own, though some do not grow quite so large.

Q. Who was Lady Hamilton? S. D. N.

A. Lady Hamilton was the wife of the diplomat, Lord Hamilton, and was famed both as the favorite of Lord Nelson, the British naval hero, and as the model of the artist Romney, who painted thirty portraits of her.

Q. When did Julius Caesar visit the British Isles? J. W. A. Julius Caesar, 55 B. C. visited the Island of Britain for the first time. He was accompanied by two legions.

Caesar did little beyond landing in Kent on this visit. In 54 B. C., accompanied by five legions and two thousand cavalry, Caesar again visited the Island. He penetrated Midsex and crossed the Thames river.

Q. Can a street car company make money on a five-cent fare? R. S. P.

A. Experts in urban transportation matters says that it is impossible, conceding, however, that there may be exceptional cases inasmuch as the factors controlling a street car company's earning powers—capitalization, labor costs, other operating charges, taxes, etc.—are variable.

The average street railway fare in the United States is now 8.01 cents, this average being based upon the fares in 272 cities of more than 25,000 population. In 112 of these cities the fare is 10 cents.

Q. Is it true that there is a play in New York that lasts from six o'clock until midnight? J. B. C.

A. Eugene O'Neill's new play, "Strange Interlude," requires about five hours for a performance.

Q. Is it possible to cook without fire or electric current? M. V.

A. A bulletin of the General Electric Company in describing a new high-frequency radio tube says: "Among the stunts demonstrated with the high-frequency apparatus was radio cooking. A wire was suspended over a table at some distance from the radiating aerial, and parallel to it. A sausage placed in a glass tube was hung from the end of this receiving aerial and in a few minutes it began to steam. On being removed, it was found to have been beautifully cooked by the high-frequency currents induced in it, although no flames or other visible means of heating were applied. A fryless friend egg was also prepared in the glass tube and served hot to the spectators. An apple was impaled upon the end of the receiving aerial and in a short time was thoroughly baked."

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, April 9—Diary of a modern Pepys: Aroused by a merry telegram from Courtney Ryley Cooper in the Colorado high country, and with a friend to his safety deposit box and watched him clip coupons from a sheaf of bonds, a grim reminder to those who waste.

And an old lady there adorned herself with jewels and put them away again and an attendant said she came once a week to indulge this vanity. So to lunch at a place where waiters were costumed as clowns and amusing, too, but the food very poor.

In the evening to a dinner for some advertising gentlemen from Detroit and Dr. George Dorsey, Ray Long, Brig. Gen. Reilly and Irvin Cobb made brave speeches and I, too, made an effort, my voice trailing off into a squeak. And Sneeze, the black boy sang "Room 202" gallily. So late to bed.

New York's amazing curiosity is exercised at the opening of a conspicuous theatrical performance. The curtains gather at dusk and go without dinner to stand around the entrance for a peep at the sprinkling of celebrities who may arrive. Nobodies are targets for a little kidding from the sidelines as they go through the police-made lane. Joe Doakes may be greeted with the cry: "Here comes Jack Barrymore!" and taunted by blushing blushes. When Mayor Walker comes up with an official clatter, he is certain to receive a round cheer, that is if they haven't all gone by that time.

Mons. Ziegfeld, who has always been ahead of the pack with extravagant curtains, surpasses previous efforts this year. In one of his extravaganzas there is a curtain of ermine tails, and when its furred magnificence is revealed the collective feminine gasp is something that must even warm the icy heart of the little father of the Follies.

It is always good fun watching Ziegfeld when he is dragged from the wings at a premiere to take a bow.

I wonder if others have noted the gaiety of the bus tops. There is a camaraderie among those perched upstairs not found many places in the city. If they ever start razzing you, take the tip of one who knows—sneak swiftly up a side street and hide in a doorway. They can make you redder than a tomato.

Third, there are headaches which come from actual disease of the brain.

Auto Body Company Will Lengthen the Life of Your Car

Like the hibernating bear, who is beginning to stir around, with the advent of spring weather, the old family bus that has stood unused in the garage during the winter will be nosing out into the driveway again, ready for another campaign.

Is it really ready though? How does it look this spring?

You know, these days, with so many classy cars on the road, shining new machines, you can't permit yourself to be seen in such company with a dinged, unpainted car you're really ashamed of.

If you're in this fix and don't feel ready to trade in your car yet, take it up to the Youngstown Auto Body Co., Penn Avenue, East End. They guarantee to make wrecked cars look new, and they are truly masters in this line of work.

They are specialists in removing unsightly dents from bodies, fenders, etc., and also do woodwork and closed car work both inside and out.

They are auto top specialists and will also repair or replace, if necessary soiled or worn upholstery. In this as in all other work they do, the customer can depend that he will have the best job possible through a combination of quality, workmanship and first-class materials.

The shop is complete, body repairing, dico work, top renewing, upholstering—in fact, nearly everything they do at the factory.

Finley Bros. Co., Makes it Easy to Purchase at Home

There are a good many reasons that could be enumerated concerning the advisability of buying at home.

We are speaking here of lumber and, principally, the Finley Brothers' Lumber Company. We could set down a lot of high-flown phrases on the subject, but all that's necessary.

The value of buying right here at home is, in a few single words—You know what you're getting and you know the people from whom you are getting it. That's pretty nearly reason enough, isn't it?

When the average individual builds a house, he expects to make that his home. If he's like the most of us, he puts just about all he's got, or a considerable chunk of it, into the home. He expects to receive value. If he doesn't, he loses money on the deal.

Dealing with the Finley Brothers' Lumber Company assures you of value in the matter of buying lumber or accessory equipment.

You Can Depend on Ervin Machine Co. In Any Emergency

Knowledge of all specific details of the manufacture of machinery, an admirable ability to meet emergencies in the pottery, chemical or any other line of machinery work, promptness at caring for all demands, large or small, from firms and individuals of this and other communities, and, at the same time, turning out work that can be depended upon, are characteristics that have given the Ervin Machine Company a deserving place of prominence in their own particular line.

Their ability to meet an emergency call from large manufacturing concerns of the district, in the replacement of an important piece of equipment, has made their services invaluable in many respects.

They are on the job for problems of this kind all the time, but at the same time do not neglect their every day repair work. They promise prompt service on repairs of all makes of machinery, no matter how large or how small, the piece of apparatus may be.

They guarantee to their patrons a knowledge and equipment to produce results in the shortest possible length of time and at the least possible cost.

The reliability and dependability of their products is guaranteed as they leave the shop.

Getting More Miles Out of Your Tires Is Bowman's Task

Special processes and special, modern methods of manufacture are enabling automobile manufacturers to produce cars at lower prices and at the same time are making excellent machines available for almost every pocketbook class.

The public today is a better judge of automobile value than it was 10 years ago. And the manufacturer is making his car better and better. Take care of, practically any make of machine will continue in service indefinitely, wearing out set after set of tires.

Preservation of these tires, then, may be regarded as an important function in the extraction of the most value and service possible out of the car.

And that's where J. C. Bowman comes in. Helping East Liverpool district motorists to get more miles out of their tires has forced Bowman to expand his business. Only recently he took over bigger quarters in the Traveler's garage, East Fourth street.

"Invite Bowman to your next blow-out!"

It is to the wonderful reputation of Golden Star milk, however, that the company owes most of its remarkable growth and continued popularity.

Painstaking methods, with the end in view that the customer gets the highest possible grade of milk, has characterized the efforts of the Golden Star Dairy company from the point where the milk is produced to its delivery to the customer.

And these careful efforts to achieve the utmost in quality in the various processes through which the milk passes before it reaches the customer's table have resulted in a uniformly high grade milk. You can depend on Golden Star quality always.

Stock up Your Fuel Bins Now and Use W. T. Anderson Coal

Winter really is over. We can't have many more days like yesterday. After the baseball boys go into action, and that's this week, you're safe in saying goodbye to snow and ice and then you can get down into the cellar and clean out the furnace.

If you've been using a good grade of coal, it won't be much of a job, but if you've got to clean out a lot of clinkers and that sort of thing, you'll probably begin to consider the advisability of using W. T. Anderson's coal.

And it wouldn't be a bad idea to begin to stock up right now for next winter. Full coal bins next fall just before winter hits us again will make you feel surprisingly happy.

And if your coal is one of the several brands that Anderson handles, you'll feel that much better. Pocahontas, West Virginia split and the real Pittsburgh coal, the best obtainable Anderson handles.

Burn Anderson's coal, any of the above brands, and you'll notice first of all its heat making qualities. And then the fellow who has to clean out the furnace will observe with enjoyment that there's nothing but fine, dust-like ashes to take out. No fussing and fuming with clinkers.

Quality is Business Builder for Golden Star Dairy Company

An unswerving determination on the part of the management of the Golden Star Dairy company to give its patrons nothing but the best has resulted in the most phenomenal growth ever witnessed in the dairy business in this vicinity. Since the business was incorporated by Messrs. John Eliford and Fred O. Glenn a little over five years ago it has increased its output from about 150 gallons to over 1,000 gallons daily.

It is to the wonderful reputation of Golden Star milk, however, that the company owes most of its remarkable growth and continued popularity.

Painstaking methods, with the end in view that the customer gets the highest possible grade of milk, has characterized the efforts of the Golden Star Dairy company from the point where the milk is produced to its delivery to the customer.

And these careful efforts to achieve the utmost in quality in the various processes through which the milk passes before it reaches the customer's table have resulted in a uniformly high grade milk. You can depend on Golden Star quality always.

TWO MEN, TWO WOMEN TO FACE MAYOR FOGO

F. Christy, East Liverpool, Driver of Car.

NO ONE HURT

George Mountford Machine Badly Damaged in Wreck.

Two men and two women, all from East Liverpool, are facing charges in Wellsville police court as a result of an automobile crash yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Lisbon road when the car occupied by the quartet collided with a machine owned and driven by George Mountford, of East Liverpool.

Chief of Police John Fults and Patrolman Cole arrested C. F. Christy, 218 Church alley, East Liverpool, on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated; Joseph Bradley, intoxication; Elizabeth Stacey, intoxication; and "Lizzie" Stacey, her daughter, also intoxicated.

No one was hurt in the crash although the Mountford car was badly damaged, police authorities say. It was towed in to the Turk Nash garage in East Liverpool.

The two Stacey women, fined $24 each, are being held in jail here.

Christy and Bradley have been released pending a hearing on Tuesday evening before Mayor Wallace L. Fogo.

War On Reckless Driving

"City officials of Wellsville will not tolerate reckless driving or driving while intoxicated, and every effort will be made to stop the practice here," the mayor said today.

In accordance with this policy Patrolman Reed arrested J. C. Whipsky on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated. He is in jail.

Theo Dorsey, East Liverpool, is in jail after being assessed a $10 fine for reckless driving. According to police, Dorsey last night drove into a section of the railing across the street car bridge over Little Yellow Creek, tearing away part of the steel rail. The opening was roped off today.

Mrs. Bessie Sparks, wanted on a second offense liquor charge by authorities in St. Mary's, W. Va., was arrested by police at a house in McQueen's Run where she had been living with her husband. St. Mary's authorities were notified and the woman will be taken back this week.

CHURCH-GOERS HEAR TRAVELER

Dr. James Taylor Occupies Methodist Pulpit.

With large throngs of worshippers at every service, Easter programs were carried out successfully yesterday in the Methodist Episcopal church, featured chiefly by addresses by Dr. James Taylor, world traveler.

His Sunday morning topic was "The Badge of the Christian," in which he made contrasts of the worshippers of many religions with the insignia which a Christian is known.

At the evening services he discussed world conditions which he said made democracy impossible. His argument was that "if we expect the United States to be what we want it to be we must make the rest of the world what we want the United States to be, because we do not live to ourselves. We are affected by the outward conditions in every land.

He explained this from the standpoint of illiteracy, disease, war, crime, education, sanitation, medical science, religion, he said, would cure the world's ills.

Tonight Dr. Taylor will speak on the subject, "Mexico As I Saw It When the Bandits Captured Me." He lists this lecture as one of the outstanding talks in his many subjects.

Paul Taylor, son of the lecturer, has launched the organization of the High-Y club which meets at 6:30 o'clock on Sunday evenings, the object being "to cultivate the social and spiritual life of the young people." Taylor himself is an athlete of experience and has known personally many of the great athletes of the country. He will use the gymnasium of the church this week in organization the young people's program.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kessell, and son, Edward, Broadway, and Mrs. O. M. Kessell, visited in Dover Sunday.

CROWDS ATTEND EASTER MEETS

Rev. D. E. Young Preaches at Christian Church.

Despite stormy weather, unusually large crowds attended services in the First Christian church Sunday, with the Easter theme being featured at the morning exercises and the evening being devoted to a continuation of the series of "fireside services."

Rev. D. E. Young, pastor, preached on the subject, "The Ministry of Watching and Standing By" in the morning. A program of appropriate music was given. The altar, banked by Easter flowers, was unusually attractive.

Total of 357 attended Bible school, with 74 in the Loyal Men's class of which C. D. Henthorne is president and George Wilson teacher.

Last night's services were dedicated to "mother." The first of the series, a week ago, was in memory of the "old fashioned home." Next Sunday has been designated as "father's night."

In speaking on "Mother," Rev. Young said, "The protestant Madonna is not the virgin Mary, but one's own mother." He said that the home and the church had been tardy in recognizing woman's place in the world, and that it was a time for the church to begin to talk about the motherhood of God, because God's love is symbolized in mother's love. "It must ever be the part of Christianity to perpetuate devotion to the mother." Special musical numbers including "Mother McCree," "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," "My Mother's Old Bible Is True," and a reading of Kipling's "Mother O' Mine" were built into the service together with a number of "mother's" favorite hymns. The "fireside" found the home fires burning, with mother's Bible, oil lamp, cradle, rocking chair and dining room fixtures. The setting for these services are original and beautiful and as Rev. Young explains, nothing cheap or sensational or vaudeville-ish about them.

He explained this from the standpoint of illiteracy, disease, war, crime, education, sanitation, medical science, religion, he said, would cure the world's ills.

Tonight Dr. Taylor will speak on the subject, "Mexico As I Saw It When the Bandits Captured Me." He lists this lecture as one of the outstanding talks in his many subjects.

BOMB LETS GO AS CHICAGOANS AWAIT BALLOT

Police Suppress Names on Eve of Fight at Polls.

BITTER BATTLE

Deneen Forces and Small-Thompson Element Clash.

CHICAGO, April 9.—A bomb was exploded today in the rear of a two-story building near the Melrose park police station.

Police refused to divulge the names of their prisoners or to say whether or not they believe the blast was of political significance.

CHICAGO, April 9.—With tension near the breaking point, rival candidates in Chicago's bitterest of all election campaigns today hurled their final verbal bombs over the heads of a nerve-strained citizenry.

The warring Republican factions are headed by United States Senator Charles S. Deneen, Louis L. Emmerson and Judge John A. Swanson on one side, and by Governor Len Small, Mayor William Hale Thompson and State's Attorney Crowe on the other.

The principal fight rages around the nomination for governor and for state's attorney of Cook county (Chicago). Senator Deneen and Mayor Thompson, field marshals for their respective forces, are not up for any office at this time, but their political fortunes depend upon the success of their respective candidates.

Len Small, incumbent, is seeking the nomination to succeed himself as governor. He is opposed by Louis L. Emmerson of the Deneen camp, Robert E. Crowe, who seeks to succeed himself as state's attorney of Cook county, is opposed by Judge Swanson.

The Small-Thompson-Crowe faction has campaigned under the slogan of "America First," which has become a target for the Deneen forces. Deneen campaigners ask at every rally what "America First" has to do with enforcing the laws in Chicago and the reputation the city holds throughout the world.

NEW ENGLAND FEARS FLOOD

Cold Spell May Halt Rampages of Rivers.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., April 9.—Another flood peril stalked over northern Vermont and sections of upper New Hampshire today, although the sudden shift to cold weather brought some relief.

The Connecticut river was reported at record height in Gilman and Lunenberg. The boom at Gilman went out with a roar and the rushing water swept two automobiles along the Lunenberg highway. On the highway as far as Lancaster, N. H., water was four feet deep.

Water reached to the first story of several houses on the lowlands of Barnet.

FRENCHMAN PLANS NON-STOP FLIGHT

PARIS, April 9.—Lieutenant Michel de Troyat is expected to take the air in a non-stop solo flight today preparatory to making a trans-Atlantic flight attempt early in May.

About the time a man reaches the point in life where he can afford good food his doctor places him on a diet, and orders him to stay away from it. —Lorain Times Herald.

Unable to Find Work, Kills Self. CLEVELAND, April 9.—Despondent because he could not find employment, Clinton Cox, 53, fashioned a small gunpowder out of gas pipe, loaded it with gunpowder and lead slugs, then shot himself in the chest here late Sunday. He died shortly afterward.

The Reverend Joseph F. Rumel, D.D., curate of St. John's Church in New York, is new Bishop of Omaha, Nebraska, having just been named by Pope Pius.

"WHEN MY BABY WAS RUN DOWN
Father John's Medicine Helped Him Gain Weight

"My baby was sick, pale, and run down. One of my neighbor's recommended Father John's Medicine and since giving it to him he has felt fine and has no colds. He has also gained weight. I am giving it to all my children." (Signed) Mrs. Rose De Pont-Bard, Shirley, Mass.

For children who are pale and thin, who suffer from repeated colds, Father John's Medicine has proven its value for more than 70 years. It builds new strength because it is pure and wholesome nourishment.

"Yes—Thanks to my HAAG VORTEX"

"Every time I see your washing on the line I envy you. How do you get it so beautiful and white?"

"Oh, that's easy—now that I have a new Haag Vortex. I have tried several other washers, but never was perfectly satisfied until I saw a Haag Vortex do a washing."

"I don't have to soak, boil or rub my clothes, either. I just put them in the tub, turn on the switch—and in a jiffy everything is spotless, just as you see it on the line."

"It certainly is a relief to have a washer that I can depend upon to do the whole washing—light and heavy pieces alike—without ever damaging a single button or thread."

"I should think it would be! I'm going to have a Haag Vortex demonstrated for me this very week."

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called it his prescription HEM-ROID. He tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 96 per cent and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Mathew's Original Cut Rate today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you, or costs you nothing.

*The fast get-away -- the quick stop
-- this grinding wear demands*

General's Dual Tread Proper Size Line

WITH PRESENT LOW RUBBER PRICES, what's the use of worrying along with the ordinary tire. Never before has top quality cost so little ~ ~ never so easy to pay for ~ ~ and never has it meant so much.

What other tire has kept pace with the rapid development in motor cars, particularly in the past two years—their higher speed, extra power, quicker get-away, sudden stopping—punishment that tears down the ordinary carcass and grinds off the tread of any tire not built to meet the new driving conditions.

Built bigger and better through and through. Not merely thicker in tread—not merely more rubber on the surface. Even some of the cheaper tires might copy the thickness of the tread, but it isn't only the amount of rubber that counts with General—it's the kind. Not simply more rubber—and more per tire—but more pure rubber.

That is the sort of tire foundation the modern motor car must have for replacement of the original equipment tire lines that have proved too light for the job.

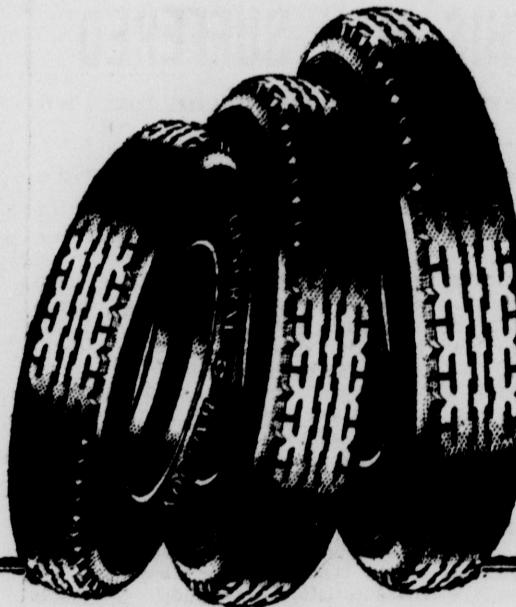

It is the reason for car owners everywhere changing over to the Dual Tread,

Proper Size General line, a swing so tremendous that it has carried General to the biggest sales gain in the industry—the only one of the big five tire manufacturers of Akron credited with an actual tire gain during the past season.

When you find such a percentage of the car owners coming to one make of tire it is pretty good evidence that there is one line and one only capable of standing the wear of this new hard-driving era.

The second set of tires must always be better than the first, for it's the second set that finds the wheels out of alignment, brakes needing adjustment, natural wear throughout the chassis that puts additional burdens on the tires. Where the other tire quits, General takes up the job. It carries the handicap that only such Proper Size, Dual Tread quality can carry and still deliver the greatest uninterrupted mileage—two to one over any other tire.

Piazza, Taylor Share Main Bout Honors At Eagles' Tonight

Francis,
Mitchell
To Tangle
Young Sweeney, Mingo
Lad, Semi-finalist
Again.

Scheduled to weigh in this afternoon at the 140-pound mark, according to Matchmaker Tom McDonough, Young Piazza, Pittsburgh, will share main bout honors with Harry Taylor, McKeesport, over the eight-round route tonight at the Eagles' Lodge arena.

Taylor is a newcomer to East Liverpoolistic ranks, but Piazza has fought here before and while it is difficult to forecast the style of glove swinging to be anticipated, managers of the pair guarantee a battle all the way.

Young Sweeney, who recently put on a nice six-round exhibition with Frankie Porto, McKeesport, here, will be back again in the semi-final, this time with Red Cassilino, of Pittsburgh, the pair being scheduled to go on at 128 pounds.

Kid Francis, of Wellsville, is matched off with Ray Mitchell, of East Liverpool, in the second four-rounder on the bill. Francis will weigh around 135 and Mitchell will probably go 138 or 139. The winner of this scrap, McDonough says, gets a shot at Freddy Edwards, of Chester, for the divisional title of the district in the final card in two weeks.

Edgar Rose, the East End middleweight, goes on with Louis Campbell, of Newell, in the four-round opener.

COLD MAY KEEP INDIANS IDLE

CLEVELAND, April 9.—With the temperature hovering around 30 above and snow in the air, it was doubtful whether the Cleveland Indians would go through with a scheduled workout on their home lot here today following their arrival from Cincinnati. The tribe dropped Sunday's exhibition game to the Reds, 5-7.

Tomorrow the team leaves for Chicago, where it opens the American league season Wednesday with the White Sox.

Heneen Chucks Modesty Role As He Awaits Tunney Fight

He's Talking Like a Chief Second Now, Even Promising to Give all the Boys a Shot at His "Title."

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 9.—According to confidential advices from the scene of action, Tom Heneen, the willing opponent, has been having a very enjoyable visit in Paris since the news became rampant that he had been named as Brother Tunney's man for the next public demonstration in heavyweight circles. I don't know, as a matter of fact, whether Heneen still is in Paris or has returned to England but, in my general uncertainty on this point, I am not altogether different from the Parisians themselves. They have experienced a certain amount of difficulty in seeing a great deal of the young man.

Heneen got quite a break when they told him he was to go in there for an eighth of a million and the exclusive rights to Brother Tunney's fist full of

CUT PRICES FOR NEW YORK FIGHT

NEW YORK, April 9.—Tickets for a championship prize fight at one, two and three dollars a head!

That is not the pipe dream of a New York Boxing fan, but the scale of prices which will prevail at the St. Nicholas arena here tonight when Corporal Izzy Schwartz, world's flyweight champion in New York state, takes on Routier Parra in a fifteen round bout. The prices are the lowest ever charged in New York for a championship fight.

British Golf Invasion is Being Planned

Several Important Matches in Prospect.

LONDON, April 9.—Reciprocating the visit paid for some years past by Americans in search of British golfing honors, British golfers are to invade the United States this summer.

The most important of the many invasions will be that of J. C. S. Maughan, captain of the Cambridge University Golfing Society during 1927 and the top man of this year's University team, who at the end of June is taking out a side to play against Harvard and Yale and several other matches against representative American teams.

Maughan has not yet got his side together, but it is expected he will be able to take out a very strong team, and the match should be of exceptional interest to American golfers.

In August the British Walker Cup team, yet to be chosen, will sail for New York.

In view of the fact that the American Amateur championship falls on September 10, many of the British Walker Cup team are expected to stay over and compete.

In addition to those enumerated above, R. R. Burton, a well-known old University player, will make a tour of America and Canada accompanied by his father, another well-known player, Burton has entered for both the American Open and Amateur championships.

HOME RUN TWINS DO THEIR STUFF

NEW YORK, April 9.—Supporters of the New York Yankees are convinced today that the home run twins, Ruth and Gehrig, have regained the ability to sock homers. They saw Babe and Buster deliver circuit clouts which beat the Brooklyn Robins yesterday, 7 to 3. Dugan of the Yanks and Max Carey of the Robins also hit for four bases.

The series, now deadlocked, will be resumed in Brooklyn today.

YANKEES SWEEP MEXICAN SERIES

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, April 9.—The United States Davis cup team, with a clean sweep over the Mexican team, left here this morning bound for San Antonio, where they will start a series of exhibitions. Led by Captain Bill Tilden, the Americans made their trip a complete success by winning the final two matches of the five-match affair and eliminating the Mexicans for another year.

Johnny Hennessy, Indianapolis, and Wilmer Allison, intercollegiate star, made the invaders' triumph complete by trouncing Robert Kinsey, captain of the Mexican team, and Alfonso Uda.

The match between Kinsey and Hennessy had been looked on as the best chance of a Mexican victory, but Kinsey was soundly beaten by the young American in three straight sets, 6-2, 6-0, and 6-2.

It took Allison four sets to beat Uda, 4-6, 6-3, 8-6, 7-5.

knuckles. In this case, one break led to another, for it seems that Heeney was headed for Paris when the news came. If he hadn't been very careful about it, the news might have arrived while he was on his way to East Orange.

Anyhow, the tidings in question naturally left him feeling somewhat jocular and, from what I have been able to gather, nothing has happened in Paris to alter the situation. The young man still was far from depressed when last heard from. He was disporting himself in a very chic swimming pool somewhere on or near the Champs Elysees to the accompaniment of admiring cries of "tres jolie" from the populace.

Previous to that occasion, the correspondents had succeeded in running a dead heat with Mr. Heeney only at isolated and very temporary junctures. In brief, they found many difficulties at all times but Mr. Heeney very seldom.

I note with pained incredulity, too, that the tenor of Thomas' remarks has altered and for the worse. Previously, he was the soul of modesty and appeared as a fellow who disliked publicity and so spoke of his art in an appealingly deprecating manner.

"I'm not much of a fighter, but what of it?" he seemed to imply. And while you agreed with him on both points, you admired his finger nails and the day he did his hair or something. Anyhow, you felt that a man who talked about himself in that sort of voice manner ought to be stood back from and admired at regular intervals.

But now my faith is ravished. Thomas has chucked the charming role of modesty and is talking like a chief second. If the advices are to be believed, he has declared for "flattening Tunney" and even has promised to give every deserving candidate a shot at the title when he is champion.

Hoppe Remains Undefeated in 3-Cushion Meet

Leads Tournament With 4 Wins, No Losses.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Willie Hoppe of New York today remained the sole undefeated player in the national three-cushion billiard tournament here.

Hoppe went into the lead, with four victories and no defeats, when Len Kenney of Chicago checked the winning streak of Johnny Layton of St. Louis at four straight. Kenney yesterday upset Layton, 50 to 47, in 61 innings.

Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia, defending champion, suffered his second defeat of the tourney when Gus Copulos of Detroit handed him a severe drubbing in 46 innings. The score was 59 to 26.

Art. Thurnblad of Chicago was Hoppe's fourth victim. It took the old master sixty innings to turn the trick and the score was 50 to 33. In the other match of the day, Earl Lookbaugh defeated Cowboy Weston, 50 to 35, in 64 innings.

ASHLAND LANDS NATIONAL TITLE

CHICAGO, April 9.—In marked contrast to the excitement of the past week when forty prep teams from all over the United States were contesting for the interscholastic basketball championship of the nation, the campus of the University of Chicago today looked like the "Deserted Village."

The happy quintet from Ashland, Ky., who triumphed over Canton, Ill., 15 to 10, in the final game of the tourney, were given a rousing send-off when they left for the Blue Grass state.

Kentucky, with its two great entries—Carr Creek and Ashland—justly deserved the rich reward.

Grandforks, N. D., beat out Vienna, 27 to 25 for third place, second place, of course, going to Canton, Ill.

CUE EXPERT TO APPEAR HERE

ALBERT CUTLER

Albert G. Cutler, of New York City, foremost exponent of the diamond system of play, the greatest improvement in recent years in the game, of three-cushion billiards, will demonstrate and explain the system in exhibition matches tonight at the Club Billiards parlors here.

Cutler, who has been one of the leading balkline and three-cushion billiard players of the country for a number of years, unlike other professionals who play exhibition games, will, after each of his demonstrations, explain in detail the system he uses and which he has found most satisfactory.

He will invite spectators to come to the table and to set up shots which they have found most troublesome and he will show the way such shots should be played and the strokes to use to produce the best results.

President to See Nats, Sox Clash Tuesday

Pirates Launch Home Season With Cardinals April 19.

THE crash of the bat, the slap of the horseshoe against the outstretched glove, the roar of the crowds will resound again in major league baseball parks Wednesday as another campaign gets under way, the fifty-third season for the National league and the twenty-ninth for the American.

One solitary skirmish is scheduled ahead of the Wednesday openers and that will occur Tuesday at Washington when Bucky Harris' Senators clash with the Boston Americans, with President Calvin Coolidge as the honored guest.

The clubs in the two big circuits will pair off as follows, in addition to the Boston-Washington tilt:

National League.

Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

Chicago at Cincinnati.

Boston at New York.

Philadelphia at Brooklyn.

American League.

Philadelphia at New York.

Cleveland at Chicago.

St. Louis at Detroit.

And while the preliminary movements of the clubs will be watched with enthusiasm, interest of fans in the East Liverpool district will not blossom out into its customary fulness until Thursday, April 19, when the Pittsburgh Pirates, doped to repeat in the senior loop again, open their home schedule at Forbes Field.

On that occasion the Corsairs will meet the St. Louis Cardinals, another hot pennant possibility.

While the Pittsburgh club of the National league and the New York Yankees of the Americans are favored by the consensus of opinion to finish to duplicate their success of 1927, it is also the opinion of the majority that the Bushmen will have tougher sledding with opposition from the Giants, Cards and Cubs, and that the Yankees, while the outstanding choice now, will not coast in to another flat in the easy fashion in which they did it year ago.

Stolen Idols

A Romance of the Sea
By Frank L. Packard.

"I am here," he whispered back.
"All is well, Tuan," the voice returned instantly. "It is I, Tifu, whom Nanu sent because I, too, speak the Tuan's tongue. Also, Nissan is with me. Kafan talks with the fat pig at the door; and it is the word of Nanu that the white woman is even now on the way to the Alita. And now we work swiftly that the Tuan may be free."

"Good!" said Bob Kingsley fervently.
He lifted his manacled hands to his forehead. There was sweat there. He brushed it away. The suspense had got a bit deeper under his skin than he had realized evidently! To all intents and purposes Verna was safe now. Thank God for that! And for the rest there was surely now little need for further concern. The shed being at the extreme end of the clearing behind the house, was well away from the road; and in the darkness there was little likelihood that they would be seen during the moment or two that once he was out of the shed, it would take to gain the shelter of the thick bushes, which, he had noticed when he had been locked up that morning, fringed the edge of the clearing itself. Nor was his escape likely to be discovered at all until Verna's disappearance was noticed, when, naturally, in the search that would follow, the shed here would not be overlooked. No one had come near him all day except on the two occasions when food had been brought to him. He had not yet been given anything to eat that evening, but the manner in which the other two meals had been served—by thrusting them just inside the door and the door being hurriedly shut again as though the guard were in mortal terror that he would be set upon—was a very reassuring guarantee that the third meal—when he, Bob Kingsley, was no longer there!—would be served in like manner.

He could just faintly hear the breathing of the men out side as they worked a few inches away from him—and the occasionally sound of rending wood, the protest of an embedded nail as it yielded to pressure, was scarcely more audible. Kafan had evidently enticed the guard still farther away, for he could not hear voices at all now from the direction of the shed door.

CHAPTER 31.

"Perhaps another minute passed; and then, feeling out before him in response to a guarded summons, Bob Kingsley found that two boards had been forced apart angle-wise from the ground—and, crawling on all fours, he squeezed through the opening. The next instant the boards were pushed together again into, apparently, their normal position, he was picked up in the arms of the two men from the Alita, carried swiftly across the intervening open space, and a moment later, was set down again amongst the trees.

"Yes, Tuan, we have brought this," Tifu whispered—and, unrolling a hammock, spread it out upon the ground. "It would have been hard to carry the Tuan who could not put his arms around our necks and balance himself, and we could not have gone but slowly. From the veranda of the house where there still remains a third, Nanu, and I with him, took two—one for the Tuan, and one for the white woman. Will the Tuan lie down now on the swing bed?"

"Good work!" Bob Kingsley whispered back approvingly, as he rolled himself over into the hammock; and then: "Tell me quickly about the white woman."

"Tuan," the man answered, "when Nanu returned to us, the white woman was sitting beneath a tree near us, and near to the spot where she had been walking. Tuan, it was the task of a child, and it was quickly done. O Master, Nanu came behind her, and flung his coat, which he had taken off, over her head and then, that there might be no outcry, he tied a piece of cloth upon her mouth."

"Damn!" said Bob Kingsley through gritted teeth; and then, with a vicious shrug of his shoulders: "Oh, well—alright! There was no other way, of course! Let's carry on now! There's no time to waste!"

"Yes, Tuan," the man replied. "But first, take this, O Master." He thrust a revolver into Bob Kingsley's hands. "Nanu brought it from the Alita this morning, and one other for himself. There were no more to be found, Tuan, though we made search in the Tuan's cabin. And here, too, are more bullets if there be need for them. See. I will put the bullets in the Tuan's pocket for him."

"Right!" said Bob Kingsley, as the two men, one at each end, swung the hammock to their shoulders. "But what about Kafan?"

"Tuan," grinned Tifu, "Kafan's story will be long, for he has much to tell the fool who watched at the Tuan's door. When the tale is as an end, Kafan will follow us, and because he will travel faster than we who carry the Tuan, he will overtake us before the Alita is reached."

For the first time Bob Kingsley chuckled.

"You're a priceless crowd—the lot of you!" he applauded. "Ishan't forget this. Carry on!"

A half hour passed, and in the darkness the going was far from easy, for, save for a few open spaces here and there that they were obliged to traverse, the two Malays kept to the woods. And then the moon came out, and its light, filtering through the branches, caused Bob Kingsley to be less rudely and less frequently bumped against the tree trunks, and the two Malays to stumble less frequently in the entangling undergrowth.

At times Tifu and Nissan laid the hammock down on the ground for a moment or two to rest—and at these moments Bob Kingsley cursed fervently the irons that made him a helpless burden and impeded progress. But for the most part, he had lain there silently in the hammock, engaged in listening as tensely as he had listened a little while ago in the shed. He had not been much concerned with the chance of any alarm being raised by the native servants around the house—Verna might walk in the woods for an hour, or two hours, if she liked, without any thought of her entering their heads. They were not in the habit of questioning the comings and goings of white people! It was Richardson's return from the beach where the Montah had gone down on the Baalu Reef that he had feared. Richardson would hardly stay there after dark—perhaps not that long, for it was a two hours' return journey to Arou. On the one hand, Richardson might not be back for an hour or more yet; on the other, if Richardson had started from the beach before the light failed he might fore, he, Bob Kingsley, had been constantly on the qui be expected to reach his house at any moment. Therefore from the moment he had begun his flight. But now, with the moon up and better progress being made, and already far from Tora, he was relieved to a large extent. He had been missed or his own escape discovered, and there had certainly been no sound of pursuit.

Still another half hour passed—and then suddenly Tifu halted.

"Tuan," he said, "we are almost at the cliff, but we have come more quickly than Nanu, for he is only a little way in front of us, and he has heard us, and is coming to us now. Also, Tuan, some one comes after us from behind, who, because there is the step of only one man, and because he runs swiftly, can be no other than Kafan."

Bob Kingsley nodded.

"Good enough!" he said heartily—but the next instant his complacency was suddenly and rudely shattered.

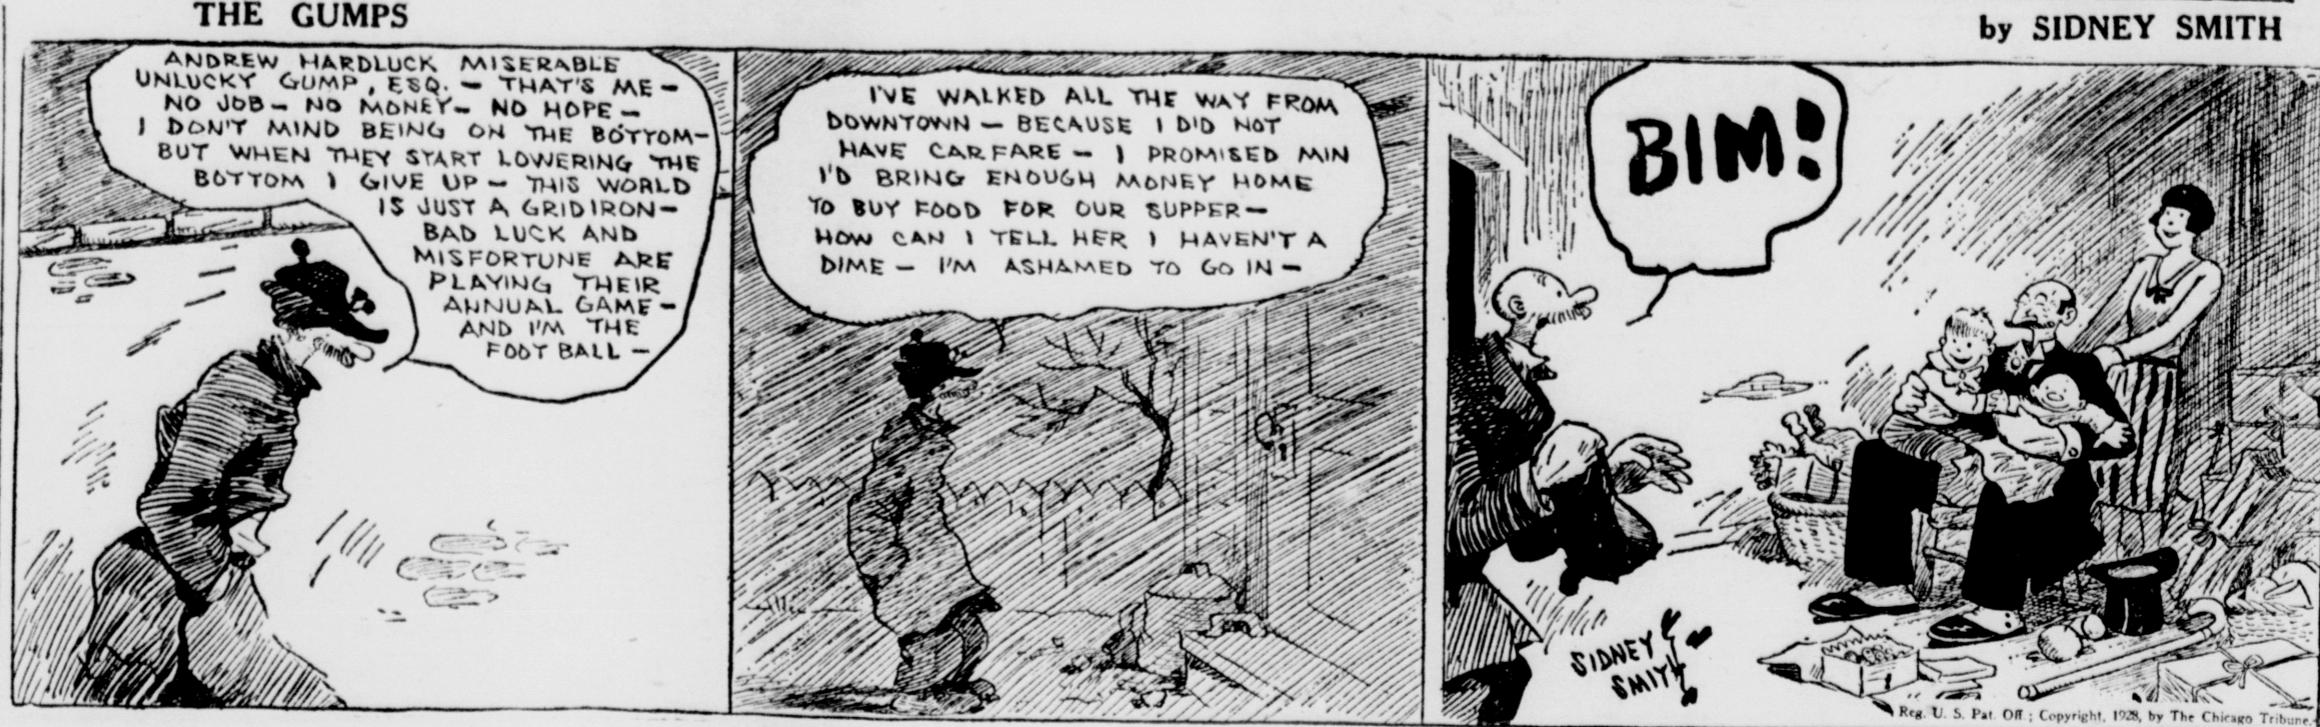

Nanu and Kafan arriving from opposite directions at almost the same moment, were standing beside him—and Kafan burst at once into fierce, excited speech, panting out his words gasping for his breath. Bob Kingsley could not understand all the man said; he was no master of the Malay tongue, and, besides, the man's speech was labored now and broken—but he caught the gist of it: As Kafan had crossed a small open moonlit space a short distance behind, he had looked back and seen the figures of several men who had apparently been following him, dodge back among the trees. Up to that time, Kafan explained, he had not been travelling fast, for he knew that Tifu could be overtaken without effort, but after that he had run until the wind was out of his body that he might bring warning to the Tuan.

Bob Kingsley was sitting erect now in the hammock. And now his questions came with the rapidity and staccato-like snap of machine-gun fire:

Warner, Dorothy Cumming, Ernest Torrence, Joseph Schildkraut, Jacqueline Logan, Theodore Kosloff, George Stegman, Majel Coleman, William Boyd, Julia Faye and Robert Ederson. ## GENERAL SHOWS SALES INCREASE

Production Also Gains
28-40 Percent in Quarter.

General Tire and Rubber company announced today increases of 28 and 40 percent in sales and tire production respectively, for the first three months of the fiscal year. Company officials declined to confirm reports printed in New York financial papers of sales for the three months totalling upwards of $10,000,000.

The company announcement however, shows a substantial increase over average business last year when the General factory led all other American rubber companies in sales gains with $24,000,000, according to annual statements of the various corporations.

Good business, predicted generally throughout the country for 1928 should hold during the next four to six months in the opinion of General company officials. Volume orders and reasonably big production should be the rule for spring and most of the summer, they declare.

"Plant additions, new machinery and increased shipping facilities have made possible an orderly increase in production in our factories without the necessity of taking on large numbers of new men," declared Charles Jahant, vice president and factory manager of the General. "Despite an apparent brisk spring business, it is our intention now, as in the past, to avoid over production.

"Selling our entire output as we do, through our own dealers and not being dependent for normal operation upon uncertain orders from large automobile manufacturers, we are in position to sense fairly accurately the moods and buying capacity of tire consumers from season to season.

"Advantages accruing from this close knowledge of our market are reflected in smooth factory operation where we have steadily and carefully increased forces but on the other hand have not found it necessary to lay off a single employee for lack of work for more than six years," said Jahant.
